

The Third Epistle of JOHN

THAT you be in good health and prosper is my desire.

When you walk in truth, I have no greater joy.

Follow no evil, but pursue good. See that your soul prospers. Continue in love.

That you be in good health and prosper in all things, is all I wish to be done.

3 JOHN

¹The Elder, to the well beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth.

²Beloved, I wish above all things that you may prosper and be in health, just as your soul prospers.

³For I rejoiced greatly when brethren came and testified of the truth that is in you, as you walk in the truth.

⁴I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.

⁵Beloved, you do faithfully in whatever you do to the brethren and to strangers,

⁶who have borne witness before the church of the love in you, if you send them forth on their journey in a manner characteristic of godly men, you will do well,

⁷because for His name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

⁸We ought therefore to receive such, that we may be fellow-helpers of the truth.

⁹I wrote to the church, but Diotrephes did not receive us, for he loves to have the pre-eminence among the brethren.

¹⁰Therefore, if I come, I will call to account the deeds that he does, prating against us with malicious words; and not content with that, he does not receive the brethren himself, and he also forbids those who would, putting them out of the church.

¹¹Beloved, do not follow what is evil, but follow what is good.

He who does good is of God, but he who does evil has not seen God.

¹²Demetrius has a good report of all men, and of the truth also itself; and we bear witness of him, and you know that our witness is true.

¹³I have many things to write, but I will not write to you with pen and ink;

¹⁴but I hope to see you in a short while, and we shall speak face to face.

Peace be to you. Our friends salute you. Greet the friends by name.
