

The SONG OF SOLOMON

LET him kiss me with his kisses.
His love is much better than wine.
The savor of your sweet ointment
Makes your name on my tongue a pleasant rhyme.
You are fair my love;
You have the eyes of doves;
You are so fair and so pleasant;
Your name is as ointment poured forth.

SONG OF SOLOMON 1

¹The song of songs, which is Solomon's.
²Let him kiss me with his mouth.
Your love is much better than wine.
³Because of the savor of your good ointment,
your name is as ointment poured forth,
bringing freshness and release;
that is why the virgins love you so.
⁴Draw me to your attractions;
after you we will run.
After You I will run, O Lord!
The king has brought me into his chambers;
in you we will rejoice and be glad.
We will remember your love.
We will remember it much more than wine.
The upright loves you.
You are beautiful in their eyes!
⁵I am black, but I am beautiful,
O you daughters of Jerusalem,
as the tents of Kedar
and as the curtains of Solomon.
⁶Do not look at me because I am black,
because the sun looked down at me.
My mother's children were angry.
Their vineyards they assigned to me to keep,
yet I left my own vineyard unkept.
⁷O you whom my soul loves,
tell me; where do you feed your flocks?
Where do you make them rest at noon?
Why should I seek to turn aside by the flocks of your companions?
⁸O you fairest among women,
yes, do this then if you do not know:
follow the footsteps of the flock and feed your kids beside the tent of the shepherd.
⁹I have compared you, O my love,
to a company of horses in Pharaoh's chariot.
¹⁰Your cheeks are lovely with rows of jewels,
your neck with chains of gold.
¹¹We will make golden borders for you,
with studs of silver all around.
¹²While the king sits at his table,
my spikenard gives off its sweet aroma.
¹³My beloved is like a bundle of myrrh to me.

He shall lie all night between my breasts.
¹⁴To me my beloved is like a cluster of henna blossoms in En-gedi's vineyards.
¹⁵You are fair, my love; you are fair.
Your eyes are like the eyes of a dove.
¹⁶You are fair, my beloved;
you are pleasant and you are fair.
Our bed is green.
¹⁷Our house beams are cedar,
and our rafters made of fir.

CWDS Bible Quotes

- 1. The overtures of love are prescriptive, inviting, alluring, impressive, but must be expressed.*
- 2. They will never know how much you are impressed unless it is expressed.*
- 3. Your use of metaphor in your love overture will penetrate the skin and play on the heart and the emotions.*
- 4. Your love relationship is filled with favors when flavored with praise and compliments; as in the natural so in the spiritual. Compliment introduces content and increases contentment.*
- 5. Say it in ways that will etch it in the memory; say it in phrases that have never been heard before.*
- 6. There is One name that feels good, smells good, tastes good, does good, is good just like ointment poured out: the name of Jesus.*
- 7. The best of human expression can never adequately capture the love of God: He is too much; He Himself is love.*
- 8. Discrimination and abuse correctly define your abuser but should never define you or restrict you to bitterness.*
- 9. The good you think about your spouse blesses and benefits you, but does not benefit your relationship unless you say it.*
- 10. What you think belongs to you, what you share belongs to your relationship.*
- 11. If she or he looks good, smells good; feels good to be around, say it; this will make your relationship good and healthy.*
- 12. Give your admiration expression and it will make your word admirable.*
- 13. What you compare your spouse with matters: compare her with a mare and it may be depressing; a mare among Pharaoh's chariot horses is distinctive.*
- 14. Dynamism makes relationship exciting: tell her she's beautiful; tell him he's handsome.*

PRAYER POINTS

- Thank You, Jesus, for expressing Your wonderful love towards me in graphic portrait on the cross. Amen.
- Let the power to eulogize in relationships fall into the spirit of every man and woman you bring together Father. Amen.
- By the power of the Holy Spirit, I give to every couple the power to write their own love language that will ravish the souls of each other.

Amen.

- I call every husband and every wife to the school of perfecting the art of compliment, in the name of Jesus.
- Loving Father, place fiery love in the eyes of every husband and every wife for their spouse, in the name of Jesus.

LILY of the valley,
I am sick from love; oh, I draw near.
Daughters of the land, do not stir me,
For his precious voice I long to hear.
Then I heard you coming,
Leaping on the mountains, skipping on.
You said, "Rise up my fair one,
for in my secret place you belong."
Rose of Sharon feed me: feed me with the apples from your lap; Speak gently, say, "O my dove, you are in the cleft of the rock."
Beautiful is your countenance; O my love;
your voice is sweet to me!
Your left hand is under my head and your right hand embraces me.

SONG OF SOLOMON 2

- ¹I am the rose of Sharon; the lily of the valley I am.
²As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters of the land.
³As the apple tree among trees, even the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons, he stands out; yes he does.
I sat under his shadow and great delight filled my face.
I ate of his fruits; his fruits were so sweet to my taste.
⁴He brought me to his house of banquet; his banner over me is love.
⁵Supply me with raisins, feed me with apples for comfort.
Feed me with apples; I am sick with love; with love I am sick.
⁶His left hand is under my head, with his right hand I am embraced.
⁷I charge you, O daughters, daughters of Jerusalem hear me say,
"By the roes I charge you, I charge you by the gazelles of the field, do not stir him nor awake my love until he pleases."
⁸The voice of my beloved, behold, he comes leaping on the mountain tops;
skipping on the hills; he is like a deer or a young hart.
⁹He stands behind our walls looking out the windows with his face.
¹⁰Then my beloved spoke, and my heart raced to hear him say,
"Rise up my fair one, come away my love, my love arise, ¹¹for the winter is past and the rain is gone; it is clear blue skies.
¹²The flowers appear on the earth; the time of singing birds is at hand.

You can hear the voice of turtledoves; you can hear them in the land.

¹³The fig tree bears green figs and the vine is filled with tender grapes.

Ooh, they smell so good! Arise my love; my fair one come away.

¹⁴In the cleft of the rock you are; in the cleft I placed you, O my dove.

Can you discern the season?

You are surrounded by the sweetness of God's love!

"You are in the secret places of the stairs; let me see your features filled with life.

You are looking lovely; let me hear you speak; sweet is your voice!"

¹⁵Help us catch the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines.

Our vines have tender grapes and by the little foxes they are spoiled.

¹⁶My beloved is mine and I am his; he feeds me among lilies. Hear me say,

¹⁷"Be like the young deer on the mountains; romp like the roe until break of day."

@Feed me with love in Your Eden; embrace me, O Lord, with Your arms.

Until the shadows flee, like a young deer I'll be; until the Son brings me new warmth.

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. Make her that distinctive rose that is always spoken about: the rose of Sharon. Make Him your Lord and that distinctive rose in your eyes.
2. Any comparison with your spouse should be a no comparison: none like you; a lily among thorns and an apple tree among trees of the forest.
3. True fulfillment in a relationship comes when you appreciate your spouse enough to be content to sit in his or her shade; to enjoy his/her fruit and to love, consume compliment and not compete with his/her work.
4. Let the banner over your spouse that identifies you with him or her; that identifies him or her with you, that speaks to ownership, separation and exclusivity: be only love, not control.
5. The Lord has all the rights to you but the only hold and claim He makes, is love: His banner over you is love.
6. Love is protective, love is appreciative, love promotes, love protects, love exalts; love that impresses must be expressed. Love that is silent gives expression to vocalized disagreements.
7. The big things are normally covered, it is the small things that matter; your attentiveness to the small things builds your relationship. Be alert for the small things, the little foxes, the things taken for granted, creeping into your relationship with destructive underestimated power.
8. Love gives itself away to embrace the love that is coming its way; your beloved is yours and you are theirs.
9. Love is never abated but it is always anticipated; love is receptive and love is responsive; when love is abundant love is expectant.

PRAYER POINTS

- Marvelous Lord, elevate husbands and wives in the eyes of their spouses; let their eyes be fixed

- and exclusively theirs, in the name of Jesus.
- Let every spirit of lust targeting marriages be crushed by fire, in the name of Jesus.
 - By the power in the blood of Jesus, I drive away competition in families and households; let spouses compliment, celebrate and complete each other. Amen.
 - I declare, by the power of the Holy Spirit, that love shall be the only banner of control and the prevailing identity in Christian marriages. Amen.

I SOUGHT him, how I sought him,
For my soul loves him so.
I sought him by night; I did not find him,
so into the streets and highways I did go.
I sought him until I found him.
I brought him to my mother's house.
Daughters of Jerusalem, do not stir him.
My beloved is with me now.

SONG OF SOLOMON 3

¹By night, on my bed, I sought him;
I sought the one my soul loves so.
I sought him but did not find him,
²so I said, "I will now rise and go.
I will go about the city,
in the highways and in the streets,
to seek the one who my soul loves so much."
But I did not find the one I sought.
³The watchmen of the city found me; I asked,
"Do you see the lover of my soul?"
⁴It was just a short distance that I left them;
I rejoiced, for there he was found.
I held him, how I held him;
I would not let him go until I brought him to my mother's house and into her chambers I held him close.
⁵I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
by the gazelles and roes of the field,
do not stir or awake my love;
let him lie until he pleases.
*@I sought Him, will you seek Him?
If you seek Him, He will be found.
When you find Him, will you take Him,
to your family make Him known?*
⁶Who is this who comes from the wilderness like pillars of smoke? Who is this man, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with all powders of the merchants?
⁷Behold his bed, which is Solomon's.
Sixty valiant men are all around.
Valiant warriors of Israel;
⁸they hold swords; they are experts.
Each has a sword on his thigh
because of the threat in the night.
⁹A chariot of the wood of Lebanon
King Solomon has made for himself.
¹⁰He made the pillars of it silver.
He made the bottom of it gold,
the covering of it was purple,
and the midst was paved with love! Oh, love!
It was for the daughters of Jerusalem.
¹¹Go forth, O daughters of Zion;
gaze at King Solomon with his crown, with which his mother had crowned him,

in the day he was espoused;
the day of gladness of his heart.
*@Go forth all you people of the earth!
Behold a greater Love that gave Himself for all!*

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. Though the body goes to sleep the heart never sleeps; passion prevents sleep and terminates sleep to pursue love.
2. Love is active and not passive; it searches, it seeks; it pursues and persists with everything until it prevails.
3. Your absence may be noticed by many but must be missed by at least one; there is someone below looking out for you and Someone above always watching over you.
4. Family is a foundation where love flourishes on strong parental and sibling support.
5. The family home should be a place of rest for your spouse; it should be a loving home and a home to love.
6. Never take love for granted, pro-actively defend love and cover love in prayer to ensure it rests securely in your home.
7. Anticipate the entrance of love, celebrate the entrance of love and you will seal off the exit of love.

PRAYER POINTS

- I speak renewed passion into lagging marriages; let friendship and lust for each other resurge today. Amen.
- Thank You for love demonstrated Father. I drive away every spirit of lust disguised as love pursuing our young virgins. In the name of Jesus.
- Thank You Jesus, that Your arrow of love has pierced a heart on my behalf; someone misses me and You cover me. Amen.
- I speak healing into every broken extended family relationships affecting marriages, in the name of Jesus. Amen.

WELL of living waters,
Oh, how sweet you are, my love.
You have ravished my heart with your eyes.
Your eyes are lovely as the dove.
Honeycomb with honey and milk,
Your plant is an orchard with pleasant fruits.
Living waters, streams of Lebanon,
I cannot see one spot or fault in you.

SONG OF SOLOMON 4

¹Behold you are fair, my love; indeed you are so fair.
You have dove's eyes within your locks;
like a flock of goats, so is your hair;
the goats that appear on Mount Gilead.
²And speak of your teeth!
They are just as sheep that are shorn; your teeth are like a flock of sheep.
They come up from the washing and everyone bears twins;
none is barren among them.
And, oh, look at those lips!
³Your lips are like a thread of scarlet, and eloquent is your speech.

Your temples are like a piece of pomegranate there within your locks, lovely and neat.

⁴Your neck is like the tower of David, built for armory, upon which they hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of men who are mighty.

⁵Your two breasts are like two young twin roes which among the lilies gently feed.

⁶I will go up to the mountain of myrrh until daybreak and shadows flee, and to your hill of frankincense.

⁷You are fair my love.

There is no spot in you.

Until dawn my spirit will actively look above.

⁸Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse; come with me from Lebanon.

Look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions' dens and the mountains of leopards.

⁹You have ravished my heart, my sister, my love;

you have ravished my heart.

With one glance of your lovely eyes;

with a link from your necklace I am mesmerized.

¹⁰How fair is your love, my sister, my spouse! How much better is your love than wine, and the smell of your perfume much sweeter than every spice.

¹¹Your lips, O my spouse, drip as the honeycomb.

Honey and milk are under your tongue.

The smell of your garment is like the smell of Lebanon.

¹²An enclosed garden is my spouse, a spring shut up, a sealed fountain.

¹³Your plants are an orchard of pomegranates, filled with much pleasant fruits:

¹⁴spikenard, camphire, saffron, calamus and cinnamon, too;

frankincense, myrrh and aloe and all the major spices.

¹⁵You are a well of living waters; a fountain of gardens, and streams of Lebanon.

¹⁶Awake, north wind, awake; come you, south wind, and blow; blow on my garden, that out of it the spices may now flow.

Let my beloved come into his garden and eat of his pleasant fruits.

Come into your garden; your bride is prepared for you.

My Lord is lovely and beautiful; blow, north wind, blow.

His speech is full of grace and truth; blow, south wind, blow.

He is my strong neck of defense; blow, Spirit, blow.

My fountain of living water, let the spices (Your Fruits) flow.

The unblemished shall come into His garden and eat the pleasant fruit He likes.

Blow, Spirit, blow and prepare for the Lord His bride.

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. You can be sure they will have the heart of yours and for you, when they eulogize every part of you.
2. It is OK to run out of adjectives if you know how to run into comparatives and metaphors.
3. Choose your language carefully, not every woman likes to be compared to a war tower even if it turns you on; yet there are women who understand an awkward content and make love to the intent.
4. There are things that must be said to your spouse to maintain intensity and the forum is always right.
5. When the essence is love, it gives off a mountain of incense for you to enjoy all night.
6. Speak perfection and your eyes will never see imperfection; the flaws are for you to love away, not point out.
7. You can militantly guard your heart from people and from life, but love will break through and steal it.
8. Love has the key to the hardest of heart; one glance has the fire to get the toughest ice to melt.
9. If you can put the thoughts to word and emotions to expression, you can bring the heart to life and dictate the response you get.
10. Your expression will create impressions to open up pleasant gardens for your blissful gratification.

PRAYER POINTS

- Power to see and appreciate what others don't, fall into the eyes of spouses today, in the name of Jesus.
- God of love, make husbands better at serenading their wives; let the honeymoon never die but instead intensify with deliberate creativity. Amen.
- I rebuke the spirit of misunderstanding from marriages; give words to communicate the heart, O Lord. Amen.
- I rebuke the spirit of familiarity from marriage; let spouses discover each other anew daily, in the name of Jesus.

RIVERS of waters washed with milk,
Bed of spices, lily-like lips,
 Sweet colorful flowers, sweet smelling
 myrrh,
My altogether lovely, it is you I am seeking for.

SONG OF SOLOMON 5

¹I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse.

I have gathered my myrrh with my spices.

I have eaten my honey with my honeycomb.

I have drunk my wine with my milk.

Drink abundantly, my beloved;

eat, O friends;

O my beloved, drink!

²I sleep but my heart awakes;

it is my beloved's voice.

He knocks at my heart, saying, "Open, my sister, in the night!

My love, my dove, my undefiled, my head is filled with dew;

with the drops of the night my locks are covered anew.”

³I have taken off my coat; how can I put it back on?

I have washed my feet; how can I defile them again?

⁴By the keyhole of the door my beloved's hand was placed.

My heart was moved for him, and passion filled my face.

⁵I rose up to open to him; my hands dripped with myrrh, my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh on the handles of the door.

⁶I opened to my beloved, but my beloved was withdrawn.

My soul failed when he spoke, but now he was gone.

I sought but could not find him; I called but he did not answer.

⁷The watchmen about the city saw me, and they were moved to wrath.

They struck me and wounded me; the guards of the wall took my veil away.

⁸I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my beloved tell him, I say,
I am sick, I am so love-sick; I am sick because of love.

⁹What is your beloved more than another, fairest of women answer now?

What is your beloved above another that you give us this charge?”

¹⁰He is unblemished and handsome; among ten thousand he is chief.

¹¹His head is like the most fine gold, with hair black as raven and bushy.

¹²His eyes are like doves by the rivers of water banks, washed with milk and fitly set and delightful to look on.

¹³His cheeks are like sweet flowers and like a bed of spice.

His lips drip sweet-smelling myrrh; they are lilies furthermore.

¹⁴His hand is as gold rings set with beryl and his body glows as fire.

His body is like bright ivory, overlaid with sapphire.

¹⁵His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold.

His countenance is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars also.

¹⁶He is my altogether lovely, and his mouth, yes, it is most sweet.

This is my love and my friend, daughters of Jerusalem; don't you see?

@My heart is daily seeking, for the one that I adore; I am love-struck by Jesus, O ye daughters of the earth!

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. The open invitation of love from a lover if accepted and reciprocated, is met by the satisfaction of love by both parties.

2. The knock of love must be met by a response to open the door to love, or instead of supping with love and of love, you will see the back of love.
3. You may ignore love but your heart cannot deny it; your eyes may sleep but your heart has no rest beating for love.
4. Love may be insistent and persistent but it must be accepted; the invitation of love may be present but it may not be perpetual; your delay in responding to love may be your deterrent in finding love.
5. Love may be doing everything to break down your door and break through to you but it will break away disappointed if it gets no response.
6. Your response to love cannot be in your heart only or your heart will fail when love no longer responds or reacts to you.
7. You have no need to go searching for love in futility if you appreciate the love searching for you. You have no need to suffer for love when love is suffering and has suffered to hold you.
8. Appreciate and eulogize what is before you, while it is before you in a timely way, or, in hindsight, you will eulogize something that is lost in time in your present pain.
9. Take all the characters and attributes of Jesus and put it all together and you get altogether lovely.
10. Search for Jesus with similar passion as you search for love (with all your heart) and you will find Him in ways unimaginable.

PRAYER POINTS

- Heavenly Lover, Lover of our souls, You gave Your Son because of love; shake hearts and let the earth respond, in the name of Jesus.
- Most high God, give wisdom in relationships to know when true steady love is knocking while there is time. Amen.
- Heavenly Lover, let every spirit turning away the knock of Jesus from the heart doors, be scattered, in the name of Jesus.
- Merciful Father, hold the hearts of your children in Your hands and perfect love on their behalf, in the name of Jesus.
- Let the spirit that puts career and other issues above Your will for their lives, be driven from the hearts of this generation; they shall not sing regrets. Amen.
- By the power in the blood of Jesus, this generation shall hear the voice of love calling and respond in the now time; today the Love of Jesus shall break through many doors. Amen.

I AM my beloved's and he is mine;
I am overcome by your gaze.

This is too awesome;

I beg, turn your eyes away.

He goes down to his garden, to the beds of spices sweet.

He feeds in his garden and he gathers the lilies.

You who feed among the lilies one who is undefiled,

You have overcome me; please turn away your eyes.

SONG OF SOLOMON 6

- ¹Where has your beloved gone? Oh, where can he be?

O you fairest among women, where did he turn, do you see?
Tell us where he has turned aside; we want to seek him with you.

²My beloved is gone to his garden where his beds of spices grow; to feed his flock in his gardens; and to gather the lilies also.

³I am my beloved's and he is mine; among the lilies he now feeds.

⁴O my love, you are beautiful as Tirzah, desirable as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

⁵Turn away your eyes from me, for by them I am overcome.

Your hair is like a flock of goats on Gilead; my pulse raced as I hastened on.

⁶Your teeth are like the flocks of sheep that go up to be washed.

They all bear twins; seek a barren among them, there is none.

⁷Like a piece of pomegranate, so are the temples within your locks.

⁸There are sixty queens, eighty concubines, and so many virgins that we cannot count.

⁹My dove, my undefiled, she is but one and the same, the only one of her mother, the favorite of her who bore the pains.

The daughters saw her and blessed her; the concubines praised her.

¹⁰Who is she who looks out as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun?

As terrible as an army with banners. They asked, "Who is she?"

¹¹I went down into the garden of nuts, the fruits of the valley to see...

to see whether the vine flourished and the pomegranates had bloomed.

¹²Before I realized it, my soul made me like the chariots of Amminadib.

¹³Return, return, O Shulamite; O Shulamite return!

We want to look on you; Shulamite, return! What will we see in the Shulamite; what will we see in you?

As it were the companies of armies; companies numbering two.

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. Get passionate and you will attract the attention of others to the one you are passionate about; they will want to seek Him with you.
2. Love that is impacted will come searching; your security is in knowing your unique place in the heart cannot be stolen, displaced or replaced.
3. Relationship both natural and spiritual comes with releasing yourself and your independence and embracing the gift of belonging: you belong to him and he belongs to you.
4. You must let go of the love for yourself and your selfishness in order to embrace love; it forces you to take responsibility for others.
5. Compliment distinguishes you as preferred company and celebrated in the heart of the one it is given to.

6. Compliments unlock affection: be generous with compliments and you will overflow with affection.

PRAYER POINTS

- Stir the heaven, O Lord, and let it stir believers to be very passionate about You publicly, without fear and pride. Amen.
- We search for You, my God, knowing You are found at the place where our entire heart gets involved. Amen.
- My King and my God, my heavenly Lover and friend; Abba Father, I own You as my very own Dada and my best friend; it is such a treasure to be called by Your name. Amen.
- Jesus my Savior, I am not my own, I am bought with a price; I belong to You; I live to glorify You. Amen.

O DAUGHTER of the princes,
I cannot help but notice you.
The joints of your thighs are like jewels,
And your feet, how beautiful are they with shoes.

Let us go into the garden,
See the grapes and check the bud.
You are so fair and so pleasant;
There I will give to you my love.

SONG OF SOLOMON 7

¹How beautiful are your feet with shoes, O daughter of the princes.

The joints of your thighs are like jewels, as if sculptured by cunning craftsmen.

²Your navel is like a round goblet; for liquor it has no need.

Your belly is like a heap of wheat set among lilies,

and your breasts, yes, let me speak,

³your two breasts are like two young twin roes.

⁴Your neck is like a tower of ivory, your eyes like the fish pool of Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim for beauty.

Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.

⁵Your head fits in place just like Mount Carmel.

Your hair has a soft purple look.

The king is captive to your perfection.

⁶How fair you are and pleasant, O love, with your delights! O delightful thing!

⁷Your stature is like a palm tree.

Your breasts like clusters of grapes.

⁸I said, "I will go up to the palm tree and the boughs I will embrace."

Your breasts are also like clusters of the vine. The smell of your breath is like the apples.

⁹The roof of your mouth like the best of wine. The wine goes down sweetly for my beloved, and causes the lips of the sleeping man to speak.

¹⁰I am my beloved's, yes I am, and his desire is towards me.

¹¹Come, my beloved, come; let us go out into the field;

let us lodge in the villages.

¹²Let us get up early, you and me.

Let us go into the vineyards;
see if the vine is flourishing.

Whether the tender grapes appear and the pomegranates are budding.

Among the grapes and pomegranates,
I will give to you my love.

¹³As the mandrakes give a fragrant smell,
I have laid up for you, my dove,
all manner of pleasant fruits;
new and old are at my gate.

CWDS Bible Quotes

1. A love relationship is only impressive if it is expressive; for it to be filled with contentment it must be filled with verbal commitments and compliments.
2. Pay attention to details about your spouse and you will get detailed attention from your spouse you cannot pay for.
3. Exaggerate the strengths of your spouse, clothe the weaknesses and you will both be happy and looking good all the time.
4. Did you notice her dress, her feet, her shoes, her fingernails, her perfume? Did you appreciate the meal? Exaggeration in compliments guarantees exertion in pleasing and contentment.
5. Exaggeration in relationships is not dishonesty, it is doors of truths you are knocking down on your path to discovery; it is the divine qualities you are cultivating with your tongue; it is the water with nutrients that makes your garden bloom.
6. Celebrate love like the words of a song and it will all fall in rhythm and tune when you make love.
7. Make love feel appreciated and desired and it will make your best desires a reality; make love feel celebrated and it will celebrate you.
8. Make love feel wonderful and it will fill you with loving wonders; make love feel wanted and it will give you all you want and more; love is not already made, make love.
9. Make love with your words and it will make your world a love affair.

PRAYER POINTS

- Power to express admiration, appreciation and praise be at the heart of every marriage; let praise permeate our marriage to You Jesus. Amen.
- Holy Spirit, open the eyes of husbands and wives in this generation to new things to appreciate about their spouses every day and new and unique ways to express it. Amen.
- Every spirit taking relationships for granted, be driven from our minds and hearts, in Jesus name. We will appreciate love; we will express it and we will exaggerate. Amen.
- My God my Father, I will celebrate every strength in my spouse and friends, and I will support and undergird every weakness until my appreciation for them is perfect in spite of, or until they are perfected. Amen.
- I declare that my mouth shall speak pleasant things at all times; that in honesty and faith I exaggerate; the weak are made strong by my words; I am good company to be with. Amen.

SET me as a seal upon you,
For love is as strong as death.
Many waters cannot quench love,
Nor can the floods drown it.
As a seal upon your heart,
And a seal on your arms,
Set me before you.
Parade me in your warmth.
For many waters cannot quench love.
By many floods it will not be drowned.
Give everything in your house,
You will find, it cannot be bought, nor can it be earned.

SONG OF SOLOMON 8

¹Oh, that you were like my brother who nursed at the breast of my mother;
then when I find you outside
I would kiss you; I would not be despised.
²I would bring you to my mother's house,
who once instructed me what to do.
I would cause you to drink spiced wine,
and my pomegranate juice.
³His left hand would be under my head;
by his right hand I would be embraced.
⁴Do not stir up my love until he is ready,
O daughters of Jerusalem;
you must not wake him up until he pleases.
⁵Who is this who comes from the wilderness, leaning on the one he loves?
I raised you up under the apple tree;
there your mother brought you forth,
yes, there she who bore you brought you forth.
⁶Set me like a seal upon your heart;
as a seal upon your arm,
for love is as strong as death,
and as the grave, jealousy harms.
The coals of it are coals of fire,
which have a most vehement flame.
⁷Many waters cannot quench love
nor cause it to lose its aim.
Many waters cannot quench love,
neither by the floods can it be drowned.
If a man gives all the wealth of his house for love,
it would be utterly despised and turned down.
⁸We have a little sister who has no breasts, for she is small.
What shall we do for our sister in the day she is spoken for?
⁹We would build on her a palace of silver,
ah, yes, if she was a wall,
and enclose her in boards of cedar if she was a door.
¹⁰I am a wall; my breasts are like towers;
as one who found favor was I in his eyes.
¹¹Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon;
to keepers he gave the rights.
Each of the caretakers was to bring him,
a thousand coins for the fruits.
¹²My vineyard is mine,
and it is before me.
Solomon may have a thousand,

and two hundred is for the keepers of the fruit.
 13 Let those who dwell in the garden heed your voice also;
 cause me to hear it.
 14 Make haste, beloved, my heart rejoices.
 Be like a doe or a young hart
 on the mountains of spice.

PRAYER POINTS

- Spirit of fantasy make way for reality in the lives of our young virgins and unmarried women, in the name of Jesus.
- Spirit of fantasy, make way for reality in marriages; I declare that husbands and wives have no need to fantasize about what should be theirs. Holy Spirit, give them the wisdom also, not to fantasize about what is restricted, in the name of Jesus. Amen.
- Righteous Father, lover of our souls; God of love who is Love impersonated, seal every marriage relationship with true love today; let ever leakage be plugged, in the name of Jesus.
- I speak commitment into the hearts of every common-law relationship. Father give them the will to make commitment for life and until death to part; to sacrifice self for each other and the courage to seal it publicly. Amen.
- Merciful and forgiving Lord, let love that never dies come to the rescue of every marriage facing turbulence at this moment; I infuse them with the power to forgive, the wisdom to navigate, grace that overlooks, and renewed strength from above, in the name of Jesus.
